“Christine's life was rough at times. She had to grow up fast. She worked hard to help care for her brother and herself. After they got grown, she worked hard to get where she got in life. A lot of people have loved her and still do have a place in their heart ❤️'s for her. May God forever bless her. She didn't live in a perfect world and none of us do. So we got to use God's blessings to do the best we can.
