“ Larry was one of my late husband's (Jerry Sudduth) favorite cousins because of his honesty and positive attitude about life. No matter how bad things could be going wrong, Larry never let on to him that it was. Several years ago when the WATSON family reunions resumed after decades of not having any, Larry mentioned it was the best thing he could be a part of before he left this earth. For his sake, I'm so grateful he was able to attend the last 2 of them. Larry's simple life made him the happiest. Maybe we should all adopt that philosophy and cut out all the unnecessary stress in our lives. Rest in peace, Larry.
