“ Mere words cannot express my sincerest condolences for the loss to your family. Tamara was such a beautiful, smart, sassy, loving little spitfire. She brought love with her everywhere she went along with some sass. It is who she was, and a light has gone dim in the world. Her light will never truly go out because those of us who had the privilege to know her carry a piece of her with us always.

“ Tamara was a sweet friend of my daughter and though I haven't seen her in years, I remember how special she was as a child. Kind, thoughtful, polite, and happy is how I remember her. I know she was dearly loved by all of her family and friends, and she will no doubt be forever in our hearts! May God grant her family and friend the peace and understanding only He can. Deeply sorry!
